Vision into Practice

We are delighted to invite you to this year's School Leaders Conference at Stock Brook Manor Country Club. We are building on a successful series of conferences and this year our theme will focus on putting the Church of England's vision, "Deeply Christian, Serving the Common Good" into practice in key areas of school life. The Conference will also help schools to adapt to the requirements of the new SIAMS framework.

Keynote speakers include Andy Wolfe and Dr Alison Brown.

Andy speaks at leadership conferences around the country working for the Church of England Foundation for Educational Leadership. He is lead writer of new resources in the light of the Church's Vision for Education, including Leadership, Pedagogy and Theology, and Ethos Enhancing Outcomes. He is author of Journeys of Faith Personal Stories and Faith Development in Church Schools (2016, Grove Books). Andy worked for 10 years at Nottingham Emmanuel School, latterly as Vice Principal. A gifted jazz musician, he previously lectured in Music in FE and HE contexts.

Alison is author of How to See Collective Worship Anew (Grove Books, 2017), arising from her doctoral research. She is Deputy Director of Education in the Diocese of Derby. An RE specialist, she has written various RE resources, including Songs for Life, to help primary schools explore six traditional hymns and also led groups to Kolkata in North India. Alison taught in primary schools for 11 years. She enjoys being a grandmother named 'Aligran' bringing joy and new adventures – not least the purchase of her first wetsuit so that fooling around in the sea is more comfortable.

This conference is ideal for school leaders, Chairs of Governors and Clergy who support the school and we encourage you to attend together to maximise the value of the day. We will send out more information and the programme for the day in the near future and we very much look forward to welcoming you to our Diocesan School Leaders Conference.
